future. As a result, the US Treasury yields, and the dollar index got beaten down badly. In turn, the risky assets such as the equities and non-dollar currencies surged on Thursday on high-risk appetite.

This aided the Indian benchmark indices, the Sensex and Nifty to open with a wide gap-up on Friday and also close on a strong note. For the week, both the Sensex and Nifty have closed over a per cent.

SECTORS MIXED

The performance of the sectoral indices was mixed last week. The BSE IT index outperformed by closing 3.02 per cent higher for the week. The BSE Health Care index fell the most by 2.5 per cent, followed by the BSE Auto index, down 1.98 per cent.

FPI FLOWS

The Foreign Portfolio Investors (FPIs) continue to buy the Indian equities. The FPIs bought $449.57 million in the equity segment last week. So far, the Indian equities have seen an inflow of about $2.3 billion this month.

Continuing foreign money inflows can help the Indian benchmark indices to scale new highs in the coming weeks.

NIFTY 50 (18,349.70)

After struggling to get a strong follow-through rise above 18,200 initially, Nifty fell sharply on Thursday. The index made a low of 17,969.40. However, Nifty opened with a wide gap-up on Friday recovering all the loss and closed on a strong note at 18,349.70, up 1.28 per cent.

The week ahead: The outlook is bullish. But there is limited room on the upside from a near-term perspective. A strong resistance is at 18,480-18,500. Inability to break above 18,500 can trigger a corrective fall to 18,200 and 18,100.

Strong support is in the 18,100-18,000 region. As such a fall below 18,000 is less likely.

A fresh rise from 18,200-18,000 support zone can take the Nifty back up to 18,500 again.

An eventual break above 18,500 will take the Nifty up to new highs going forward.

Medium-term outlook: The overall trend is up. The medium-term outlook continues to remain bullish. Nifty can rally to 19,300-19,500 initially. From a big picture perspective, Nifty has the potential to target 20,500 on the upside in the coming months.

Below 18,000, there is a strong support at 17,600-17,500 and then at 17,200 and 17,000. So, any fall below 18,000 will increase the chances of fresh buyers coming into the market.

Trading strategy: Short-term traders with a time frame bounced back sharply recovering all the loss. The index has closed the week at 61,795.04, up 1.39 per cent.

The week ahead: The near-term outlook is bullish. Support is at 61,250 and then at 60,650-60,600. Sensex can rise to 62,500 in the near term. A corrective fall thereafter to 61,500-61,300 cannot be ruled out.

In case a strong break above 62,500 is seen immediately, then Sensex can see an extended rally to 63,800 in the short term.

Medium-term outlook: The bullish view of seeing 64,000 on the upside remains very well intact. From a big picture perspective, the current rally in the Sensex has the potential to target 65,500, also on the upside, in the coming months.

Strong supports will now be at 60,000 and 59,000. The bullish outlook will get negated only if the Sensex declines below 59,000. But such a fall looks unlikely at the moment.

NIFTY BANK (42,137.05)

As expected, the Nifty Bank index has broken its 40,820-in line with our expectation. Although the index saw a sharp fall on Wednesday, it managed to hold above the support at 32,400. The US inflation data release on Thursday showing signs of a slowdown triggered a strong reversal in the Dow Jones. That helped the index to breach 33,400 and close the week on a strong note at 33,747.86, up 4.15 per cent.

The outlook is bullish. Immediate supports are at 33,450-33,400 and then at 33,350-33,250. Below that 33,000 is a strong trendline as well as a psychological support. The Dow Jones now has potential to target 34,700 and 35,000 in the coming weeks. Thereafter, a corrective fall is possible.
